Earthsongs is a fine art ceramic studio creating custom tiles, sculpture, and murals for residential and commercial spaces. Established by Linda Vonderschmidt-Lastella and Nino Pasqual Lastella in 1993, the studio has created sculptural tile murals throughout the U.S. and abroad. Shown here are images from two recent bathroom projects: one, developed as a homage to sister water "peaceful, playful, life-giving", incorporating porcelain and fused glass sculptural tile for the walls and floors; the other, created in the spirit of wind and water, includes free-form moveable sculptures in the spa niche, in addition to a framed mandala sculpture in the shower.
